ARTESIAN WELLS OF CITY VIEWED AS A SUCCESS

The city has driven another artesian well in the vicinity of Huntsville, with a flow of 225 gallons a minute. This is the second well driven by the municipality, the first one being a 2-inch well, at a depth of 108, furnishing a flow of 90 gallons a minute, and the second a 4-inch well at the same depth.

Mayor Fell states that the results from the two wells are so satisfactory that the driving of another 4-inch well will be started immediately. The two wells are about 50 feet apart and the mayor states that the flow of the 4-inch well does not affect that of the 2-inch well, even though they are on the same level.

INSTITUTE MAY LOCATE IN CITY

Representative of the Interstate Doctors Looks Over Field — Impressed With Ogden.

It is probable that Ogden will be selected by the Interstate Doctors as the location for their second new Utah Medical Institute. A representative of the Interstate Doctors has been making a tour of the larger cities of the state with a view to selecting the locations for their new Utah institutes.

While being shown about the city in the last few days, the representative of the doctors expressed considerable admiration for Ogden and it is hoped that they may be induced to locate here in preference to any other nearby city.

The Interstate Doctors, as the name implies, is an association of medical experts, who have made the curing of chronic diseases their life work. These doctors have formed a new system of medicine which has been used with marvelous success in their various institutes throughout the country.

Of late years the Interstate Doctors have been branching out and have established institutes in eastern and northern states. During the past three years they have established institutes in Pennsylvania, Ohio, Minnesota, Wisconsin, Illinois, Pennsylvania and Maryland. The many marvelous cures in cases of old chronic and deep-seated diseases have excited comment from the press and pulpit, and attract patients from all over the country.

More information in regard to the Interstate Doctors will appear in these columns soon.

If the Interstate Doctors do decide to locate here, it will be a boon to the sick, as they can secure the benefits of this wonderful new treatment without making a long journey away from home.—Advertisement.

DISTINGUISHED MAN WILL BE HEARD THIS EVENING

Senator Reed Smoot passed through Ogden last evening on his way home from Washington and was met at the depot by Republican Chairman C. R. Hollingsworth and other Ogden Republicans. State Chairman Colonel Ed Loose and E. H. Callister came up from Salt Lake and accompanied the senator to Salt Lake.

In the brief time that the senator was at the Union depot, he told those present that he was feeling well and was prepared to enter the campaign under the direction of the state central committee. He was looking fine.

Mr. Hollingsworth has endeavored to get a date for the senator in Ogden, but so far has been unable to do so. However, Senator Smoot will speak in Ogden one night before the close of the campaign, which may possibly be the night before election.

Friday morning he will leave Salt Lake in an automobile for a trip through southern Utah. He will speak in the Dixie country and in all the southern counties. The trip will take up about a week.

At 5 o'clock this evening Congressman Julius Kahn of California will arrive in Ogden on his way home from Washington and he will spend three days in Utah. He will speak in the Orpheum this evening and in Salt Lake Friday evening.

Congressman Joseph Howell will be present at the meeting this evening, and Chairman Hollingsworth states that he will be invited to speak and it is quite certain that he will make a short address. The two congressmen are fast friends and Congressman Howell came down from his home town to meet Congressman Kahn and extend a kindly greeting and welcome to the state of Utah.

Congressman Kahn will be met at the depot informally by Chairman Hollingsworth and other prominent Republicans and will be taken to the Weber club rooms for dinner. The reception to the congressman will be entirely informal and simply for the purpose of extending a well deserved courtesy, said Mr. Hollingsworth today. No arrangements have been made for an elaborate reception as the congressman will have but a brief time in which to dine and chat with Republicans before the meeting at the Orpheum, which will be held at 8 o'clock.

GEO. SHORTEN GIVEN HIGHER POSITION AT $125 A MONTH

On the recommendation of Commissioner T. S. Browning, the board of city commissioners this morning appointed George Shorten city sanitary inspector at a salary of $125 a month. The appointment was made in accordance with a plan of readjustment of affairs in the health department of the city, which provides for additional duties on the part of the inspector at an increased salary. Under the new order of things, the inspector will become the city food inspector and also will have charge of scales, and weights and measures.

The petition of property owners for the grading of Thirty-first street, between Madison and Monroe avenues, was placed on file, on the recommendation of Commissioner Chris Flygare, who is superintendent of streets and public improvements. Mr. Flygare stated in his communication to the board that his department is not prepared at this time to make the improvements and that, in his judgment, it would be advisable to defer action until next spring.

Interest on bonds reported due by the city auditor was allowed and the auditor instructed to draw warrants for the amounts as follows: Sewer refunding bonds ... $903.13 Waterworks bonds ... 1254.37 City refunding bonds ... 4409.25

An ordinance was passed creating curb and gutter district on Twenty-ninth street, between Washington and Adams avenues, and on Hudson avenue, between Twenty-second and Twenty-third streets.

NEGRO MAID STAR WITNESS

Crash of glass and the shot occurred immediately afterwards. "Did you know whom she meant when she said 'I shot him'?" Mr. Graham asked.

"No, I did not." Revolver Hidden in Dress. Mrs. Carman carried the revolver, the witness said, hidden in the folds of her kimono when she went into the office. Mrs. Carman said nothing to any one, she added.

She looked in and went out in about thirty seconds. Mrs. Carman did not express surprise when she discovered she had killed a woman and not a man.

Celia said she told Mrs. Carman the morning after the murder that God will forgive anything but murder. "Do you," asked Mr. Graham, "believe that God will forget your perjury?"

Lied for Mrs. Carman. "I know it is wrong to lie," said the negress. "But I did what Mrs. Carman asked me to do." "You are afraid of going to jail for committing perjury, too, aren't you?"

"Yes, sir, Mr. Smith (the district attorney) told me I could go to jail for lying."

Celia testified on cross-examination that when she was being brought from Freeport to Mineola to go before the grand jury, Dr. Carman told her not to change her testimony, and that he "would take care of her."

Hush Money Given Witness. Mrs. Carman, she continued, gave her an extra $5 a few days after the murder.

"That is for keeping your mouth shut," the witness said Mrs. Carman told her. For an hour and a half Mr. Graham alternately shouted at Celia and pleaded with her, seeking to make her vary her story. She admitted that she was living in New York City at the expense of Nassau county, and also that she had testified falsely in many respects at the coroner's inquest; but she explained that she had done so to shield Mrs. Carman, and the admission apparently did not disturb her equanimity. The noon recess was taken with Celia still on the stand.

OGDEN INVENTION IS BEING PLACED ON THE MARKET

Leroy J. Leishman, the inventor of the arcscope, has received word from the eastern factory at which these instruments are being manufactured, that a consignment will be shipped to Ogden within the next ten days.

Mr. Leishman is a senior at the Weber academy, still in his teens, and his invention is considered a remarkable one, not only because of the problems which it will solve, but for the evidence of the deep study of mathematics through which it was evolved. "The arcscope," Mr. Leishman stated today, "will give the diameter of a circle when only the arc is given, and will also give the number of de-greens in the arc. If you have a right triangle, with one side and two angles, or one angle and two sides known, it will give all the remaining angles and sides, the same as though they were figured out in trigonometry.

By dividing scalene triangles into right triangles, the same as is done in trigonometry, it will also solve those. It can also be used to divide up circles for mechanical drawings and will work any practical problem that makes use of any of the above principles. Another use to which it can be put is to determine the distance to an inaccessible point by laying of lines and measuring angles.

"The instrument is triangular in form, the triangles being 30, 60 and 90 degrees, and can be used for anything that a triangle is used for. Two edges can also be used as a rule, and, with the possible exception of the folding rule, it will be the most compact mathematical instrument on the market."

Mr. Leishman also stated that a number of orders for the instrument had been received from schools throughout the state, the Weber academy and Ogden high school being among them.

The company that will market the invention is known as the Leishman Arcscope company and as soon as is practicable will incorporate for $50,000.
